How Jefferson Dressed.

In dress President Jefferson was governed by comfort rather than by elegance. "Pride costs more than honor, thirst and cold," he used to say, and as he lived in an epoch that witnessed a mighty revolution in men's clothing as well as in men's government, monarchy's queues and velvets giving way to short hair and the useful, ungainly pantaloons, only the watchfulness of his body servant saved him from unbelievable anachronisms of costume. Indeed, in later life at Monticello, where this democrat ruled absolute king, he often wore the garments of several different periods together, like superimposed geological strata or the historic remains in the Roman forum—Centurions.

CANDIDATES CHOSEN FOR STATE CONTEST*ONLY TEN POINTS DIFFERENCE BETWEEN FOUR CANDIDATES LAST NIGHT

Miss Genevieve Bourassa and John Cuddy will represent Tonopah high school at the state championship contest to be held at Reno. These candidates who will carry the colors of the local school into the central arena were well qualified to rank high in the field and those who listened to the speakers had nothing but ringing expressions such as the ability of the Tonopah representatives to bring home the medals in competition with the best talent from other schools.

The attendance was not as large as expected owing probably to a number of other engagements but those who had the good fortune to hear the speakers were well repaid for their trouble.

Miss Bourassa's selection was from John Cuddy's "Little Minutes" when offered opportunity for the display of much dramatic fervor rarely found in the expression of an amateur. Miss Bourassa spoke from Gilbert Parker's "Passing of the White Swan," a border piece thrilling with energy and shaded with pathos. His delivery was excellent.

Walker Bourassa chose a very difficult subject, the gravest scene from Hamlet, that would have taxed even a greater experience and her performance was all the more remarkable on that account. Helen Davis recited "The Building of the Church at McWay's Bay" and was greeted with an ovation. The rendition of each speaker was so clever that it was not until the return of the judges that the audience could decide which was entitled to the distinction of making the cup of stones. The judges were Misses Abbott, H. E. Atkinson and Fred Bennett. In announcing their decision the judges referred to the difficulty of distinguishing between the four contestants all of whom showed such marked ability that the scoring did not have more than ten points difference.

During the intermission Miss Fields, the mother of English, treated the audience with an impersonation of an elderly lady of austere life enjoying her first experience in the opera. This number was received with applause.

The program was varied with several selections by the high school orchestra which reflected credit on the transphonograph all agreeable evidence of making of seven months as the young than ordinary ability.

HIGH GRADE TUNGSTEN FOUND AT M'KAY

SAMPLES FROM DEPTH OF THREE FEET AT GARNET RUN 22 PER CENT

J. C. McKinley came in last evening from the camp which sent him with samples of tungsten that run 6.9 per cent taken from a depth of three feet in a shaft that has been started on the property which is owned jointly by McKinley and Nick Abellman. The assay represents 5.29 tungstic acid, one of the best showings in the state.

The group is under option for $2000 to M. D. Philbrick, trustee for the Nitro estate with offices in Reno and San Francisco. When the option was granted the average assay was 2 per cent and the improvement, according to the latest return, makes the property much more valuable. The showing is better than the famous group at Soda Springs which is regarded as the best shipping tungsten produced in Nevada. The formation of lime and argonite with a garnet capping is similar to that at Jumbo where the Besson group was taken over last week by the U. S. Steel Corporation for $250,000.

The McKinley location has two names, northeast of Elko, seeking for Judge Averill, Pop Stewart and H. C. Cutting in 1898 where they spent $20,000 in proving up copper.

There was an exodus this morning for McKinley City as a result of a test of tungsten ore from that camp which was made at the Belmont mill. A quantity of rock taken at random from one of the properties of Abellman, McKinley, Jordan, and Thompson was first assayed and found to run 2.4 per cent. It was crushed and run over a Whiffley table. It concentrated to 5.6 per cent leaving only one-half per cent in the tails. This greatly enhanced the owners of the property as the quality of the ore tested was considerably below the general run of the ledges.

DIED WITHOUT DOCTOR AT A LONELY RANCH*SMALL CHILD SUCCUMBS TO INTESTINAL TROUBLE WITHOUT MEDICAL ASSISTANCE

Frankie Allen, the ten month old daughter of Peg Allen living at Silver Springs, about forty miles from Tonopah died late yesterday afternoon and the local authorities were notified. As there was no physician available it was necessary for the county and county physician to go out with Frank Carranagh, the undertaker to authorize the removal of the body. The party consisting of the Richards, Justice, Dunsmuir and Frank Carranagh left here at 8:45 last evening and did not return until after 1:30 this morning.

The body had been suffering from intestinal trouble and Dr. Richards had given several prescriptions and it was not thought necessary to hold an inquest. The funeral will be held from the undertaker's parlor this afternoon at 4:15 o'clock when the parents are expected as they are driving in from Goldfield.

CITIZENS IN DANGER OF SUDDEN DEATH*IGNORANT MARKSMAN ALLOWED TO SHOOT LENGTH OF STREET AFTER DOGS

By authority of the county commissioners the negro carriage hauler, Ted Johnson, is fast becoming a menace to the life of every decent citizen. He carries on his wagon a rifle to use on dogs that are supposed to have the rabies. There never has been a case of rabies in this country and the carriage hauler finds exercise by using his rifle on innocent dogs chiefly in the house hold pet owner. Jefferson gets his authority from the county commissioners, who in turn receive their mandate from the sheriff.

The facts were vividly recalled this morning by a bloody tragedy at the corner of Oldie Avenue and Edwards street when Jefferson shot and missed the beautiful Alabide terrier belonging to H. R. Costa, the attorney. The dog had wandered out through the open door when no one was looking and reached the street without his master. He crept down the street and ran across the carriage man who carries a rifle slung on one side of his wagon. Jefferson saw catching sight of the dog took deliberate aim and caught the unfeeling animal in the shoulder. The poor brute ran away on a point of the road and bled to death.

The bleeding of a gun has been a common pastime with Jefferson, who has been known to shoot house birds with the rifle while riding in the vicinity of mining districts.
